PAPA Summer School 2022

Courses:

- All courses are completed online at home through BYU (<https://papa.agilixbuzz.com>).
- Most courses are broken into 2 semesters (students are required to repeat the exact course/semester they failed).
- All core-content areas and some electives are available to take through summer school.
- Credit recovery and some credit advancement is available.
- There is no tutoring or academic support offered by PAPA while students complete summer school. Parents should arrange for tutors/help on their own if needed.
- Student progress will be monitored and communicated to parents via email.

Summer Term (2 Semesters):

Semester 1: May 30 - June 24 (20 Week Days)

Semester 2: June 27 - July 22 (19 Week Days—OFF JULY 4)

- Students need to work 2-4 hours a day for each individual class to complete a course.
- No extensions allowed for family trips/vacations/etc.

Fees:

- Fees for courses are paid for each semester of credit the student takes.
- Fees are on a slide scale based on income:
Tier One: $175/semester
Tier Two: $125/semester
Tier Three: $60/semester
Contact Jackie Danfelter (505-830-3150) to find out what your fee per class will be.
- Fees must be paid before the student can start the course.
- There are NO REFUNDS for courses unfinished by the end of each summer semester.
- See next page for how to pay for summer school.

Contact:

- Summer School Coordinator: Josh Heard, jheard@paparts.org, 505-525-1497
- Josh Heard will be in contact with parents of students who are falling behind in their summer school coursework. Most communication will happen via email so it is easy to track a student's history/progress.
- Contact Josh Heard directly if there is an issue with an assignment/course, if there are questions about course content, or for anything related to BYU summer school.
- Once enrolled, use the Google Classroom class code ( uhl2ltz ) to get information and streamline communication.

How to be successful with on-line summer school through BYU.

- 1) Stick to the schedule BYU gives you. 2) Communicate when you are having a problem.

Parents

FOLLOW THE SCHEDULE: The BYU online program sets a schedule for students to complete their coursework on time by giving specific dates to complete assignments. Making a schedule with specific times for your student to work and to take breaks will help your student understand how to manage their time.

MONITOR PROGRESS: We recommend that you sit down with your student at the beginning and end of each week to monitor their progress. Have them open BYU and show you around.

CHECK YOUR EMAIL: It is also important that you check your email weekly to see if the summer school coordinator (Josh Heard, jheard@paparts.org) is attempting to contact you about your students' progress.

Students

ASK FOR HELP: If you have any difficulties completing or turning in an assignment, you must contact Josh Heard (jheard@paparts.org) so that he can assist you. If you don't reach out for help, no one will know that you are having an issue.

STAY ON SCHEDULE: BYU tells you when to complete assignments in order to finish the course on time. At minimum, you need to stick to the schedule if you want to complete the course. You also have the option to work ahead and complete the course early.

NO HIDING or LYING: The BYU online program tracks how much time you are spending on each class. This time stamp—along with your current progress on assignments, projects, quizzes and tests—will be emailed to your parents if you fall behind in your coursework. There is no way for you to pretend that you've done work through BYU; it tracks everything, including when you've opened an assignment, worked on it, and turned it in.
